Magic

This stick is the most useless stick
I have ever found

I tried to carve the end to use it as a pencil
But I couldn't even get the bark off to wear down

I tied a shirt to it, to wave it like a banner

But the fabric just keeps falling off
I'm not the best flag planner

I can't even use it to build a little tent
It won't hold up the tarp and the posts have gone all bent

So I guess I'll just wave it around

Then throw it in the trash
But wait—a spark burst from the end?
A strange mystical flash?

Okay then, stick, I'll bite, I'll try

This stick might prove some fun
One flick of the wrist
And huzzah—a glowing goat

Leaps out at my expecto Patronum...
